What's happening at Curdworth...

This week leaders carried out pupil voice, learning walks and book looks in Maths across the school. This monitoring celebrates the great school improvements we are making and helps identify where we should be focusing on next, to be even better. Here are some of the comments children made about their maths learning at Curdworth...

Rhys – I've made progress in "times tables because at the start of the year I was on 3s every week but now I'm on 12s."

Willow – I get help in maths because "sometimes you guys go round and while we're still working you tick them. When you say 'Look at that again'...I know I got that accidentally wrong and when I don't hear that I know I can keep going because I'm doing good."

Ivie-Mai – I am challenged in maths "because it's really tricky and when we make mistakes it's alright and we can learn from them".

Ostap – We know what we are learning because "at the start the teacher explains what we are learning about this week."

Charlotte – enjoys maths..."it's fun to learn. It's quite challenging and when you have a challenge you want to succeed in it."

SATs

Next week sees the start of KS1 SATs month and the KS2 SATs take place.

Year 2 children will be undertaking their assessment in their normal learning environments over the next 2-3 weeks.

Year 6 will complete all 6 papers over the 4 days in test conditions following the national timetable. The Year 6 children have been practising for these assessments and working incredibly hard all year, acting on feedback given by class teachers and teaching assistants to further improve and embed knowledge. These assessments do not define the amazing progress and learning they have achieved, but merely an opportunity to show off the incredible achievements they're making. I know they will be amazing and will try their absolute best. ♡

Have another lovely bank holiday weekend, GB

Curdworth represent in Dodgeball...

Last week, some of the year 3/4 children played against 7 schools in a dodgeball competition. The children showed excellent perseverance and determination when playing their games. They scored many points to get them into 5th place. Well done to the year 3/4 dodgeball team! Miss Harris
