What's been happening at Curdworth

This week some of the children have shared their fantastic learning during assembly. Sienna C and Violet have been writing a narrative focusing on gripping setting descriptions. Ostap and Lilly wrote a letter imagining they were in the trenches during WW1. George has learnt the meanings to some of the signs and symbols we see in the local area and Annabelle has been planning her recount of the tradition tale Billy Goats Guff. Millen shared his work on adjectives and Thomas was keen to talk about column addition in maths. The children spoke confidently and enthusiastically about their learning, eager to show their books to the rest of the school. Well done children.

DON'T FORGET to attend the open class parent meeting where you can have a look at the children's learning so far this year, and speak to your child's class teacher about their progress so far – Tuesday 3rd October 5.30-6.30pm. We really hope to see you there.

Have a wonderful weekend,

Mrs Kang & Miss Gibbs 🌻
